We take the protection of your personal information very seriously. Therefore, we would like to know what data we maintain and what data we discard. This privacy statement will let you know about our security measures. Collecting data You may use our website without disclosing your personal data. You are not required to provide personal information as a condition of using our site, unless it is necessary to provide a product or service at your request. When you use our website, we may store your data for a variety of security purposes. This data may include the name of your Internet service provider, the websites you use to link to our site, the websites you visit from our site, and your IP address. This data may lead to your identification, but we do not use it. We use the data from time to time for statistical purposes, but maintain the anonymity of individual users so that they cannot be identified. If personal data is provided to others to provide the products and services you request, or for any other purpose authorized by you, we will rely on technical and organizational measures to ensure compliance with applicable data security regulations. Credit card details Sensitive credit card payment details will not be stored on our website or in our internal database system. All payment details are securely sent to bank partner ANZ in real time through an encrypted eWay gateway. If a customer places an order over the phone or requests a refund for part of the order, one of the members of the customer service team must obtain a credit card detail to process the transaction. Your credit card information will be destroyed immediately after the call. We do not request credit card information via email or instant messenger. These forms of communication are not secure enough to transmit personal information. If you receive a request on a form other than our website or by phone for your credit card information, please contact us immediately on the contact page or by calling 1800 565 333 to inform us of the appropriate permissions. Collections and We collect personal data only when you provide it to us and do so as part of registration, completion of forms or emails, ordering products or services, inquiries or requests about ordered materials, and similar circumstances in which you choose to provide us with information. The database and its contents remain with us and remain on our behalf on the data processor or server responsible for us. Your personal information will not be passed on by us or our agents for use by third parties in any way, except with our consent or as legally required. We hold you accountable for the use of personal data that you disclose to us. Some of this data may be stored or processed on computers in other jurisdictions, such as the United States. In such cases, we will ensure that appropriate protections are in place for data processors in that country in order to maintain the protection equivalent to the data applicable to the country in which you reside. Purpose of Use The data we collect will only be used for the purpose of providing you with the products or services requested by you, or for any other purpose you have agreed to (unless otherwise provided by law). Right to access and correction You have the right to review and correct any personal data stored in the system that you believe is not up-to-date or inaccurate. Send an email to the address listed in the imprint or contact your privacy representative at: Right to termination You have the right to withdraw your consent to the use of your personal data in the future at any time. Send a message through the Contact Us feature on this website or contact your privacy representative at the address below. Data Retention We will retain personal information for as long as necessary to provide the services you have requested or that you have given your consent to, except as otherwise provided by law (e.g., in connection with pending litigation).
